Registry of Motor Vehicles' Policy On Lottery Plate Re-Assignments

1. Lottery plates may be re-assigned within a family to immediate family members only with a completed, notarized Application for Lottery Plate Re-Assignment indicating the relationship between the current plate holder and the intended recipient and further requesting the transfer of the specific plate to the specific relative/spouse. Immediate family members include: parent, grandparent, child, grandchild, sibling, spouse.
2. If the holder of the plate is deceased, the notarized statement requesting the transfer of the plate to an immediate family member or spouse must be prepared by the Executor or Administrator of the Estate. If the Executor or Administrator of the Estate is an immediate family member, he/she can only transfer the Lottery plate to him/herself only with a court order approving such transfer. A copy of the Notice of Appointment from the Probate Court identifying the executor, administrator, or other personal representative of the decedent's estate must be shown. No transfer can be made from the deceased person if no Executor or Administrator has been approved. The registration can remain valid until expiration but can not be renewed. A copy of the Probate papers naming the Executor or the Administrator must be submitted to the RMV along with a completed, notarized Application for Lottery Plate Re-Assignment.
3. Re-assignments to a leased vehicle are permitted as long as the leased vehicle is in the custody of the holder of the plate. The leasing company must return the plate to the original plate holder upon termination of the lease or at the holder's request. A letter from the leasing company indicating the agreement to return the plate must be submitted to the RMV along with a completed, notarized Application for Lottery Plate Re-Assignment.
4. Re-assignments to company owned vehicles are permitted if the holder is an executive or owner of the company. The Lottery plates will revert to the original plate holder upon the request of the original plate holder. Company re-assignments must be signed and notarized by an agent of the company other than the plate holder. The statement must also be accompanied by evidence of the plate holder's relationship to the company (e.g. Articles of Incorporation listing the plate holder as an officer; business license or certificate listing the plate holder as the company owner).
5. Lottery plates cannot be re-assigned to friends or non-immediate family members, i.e. step-children, step-parents, neighbors, in-laws, etc.
6. In the case of a transfer to a spouse, any subsequent transfer must be to an immediate family member of the transferor (original plate holder), or back to the transferor in the event of divorce or annulment.
7. Re-assignments to a surviving spouse are permitted. A copy of the death certificate must be submitted to the RMV along with a completed, notarized Application for Lottery Plate Re-Assignment.

In accordance with 540 CMR, Section 2.05 (4)(q), each plate issued by the RMV remains the property of the Registrar.
